

On Halloween

It's Halloween! Tonight's the night
when it's alright to have a fright.
With scary spooks and ghosts galore,
monsters, mummies, and much more.

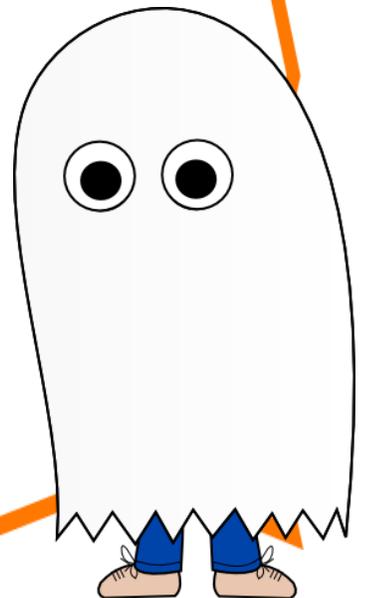

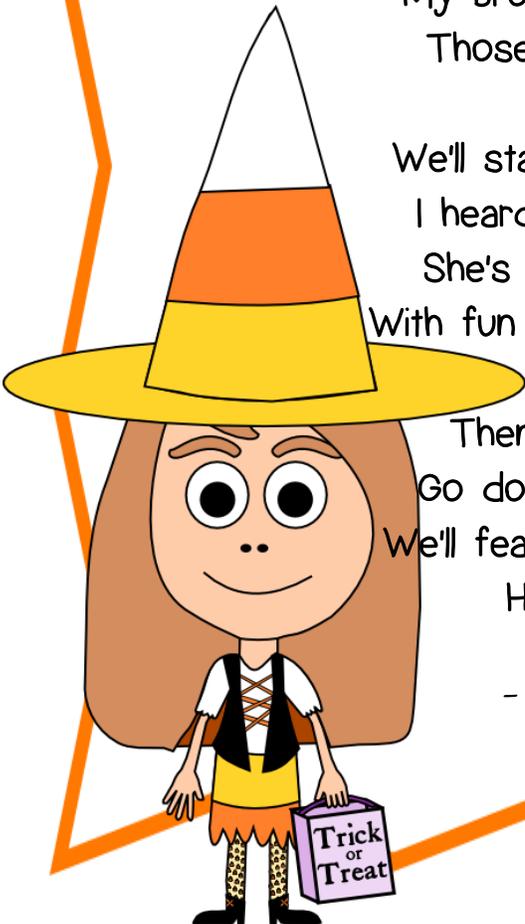

This year I'm wearing a disguise:
a sheet of white with holes for eyes.
That's right! I'm dressing as a ghost,
The costume that I love the most.

My sister has a princess gown.
She even wore it into town.
My brother wears a mask and cape!
Those villains will have no escape..

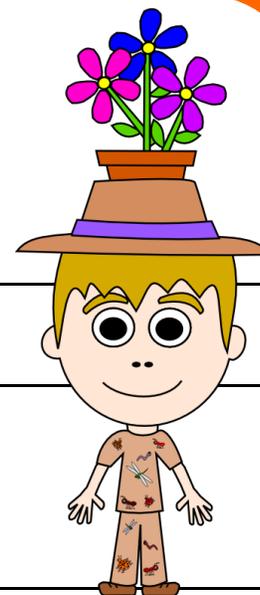

We'll start the night at Emma's house.
I heard she's dressing as a mouse.
She's going to host a party there,
With fun and games, and food to share.

Then it's time to hit the street!
Go door-to-door for trick-or-treat.
We'll feast on candy when we're done.
Halloween is tons of fun!

- Brian Anthony Crawford

On Halloween

What is the poem On Halloween about?

---

---

What rhyming scheme does this poem use?

---

---

Does the narrator like or dislike Halloween? How can you tell?

---

---

Are you dressing up for Halloween this year? If so, what will your costume be?

---

---

What do you like most about Halloween?

---

---

---

---

On Halloween

It's Halloween! Tonight's the night
when it's alright to have a fright.
With scary spooks and ghosts galore,
monsters, mummies, and much more.

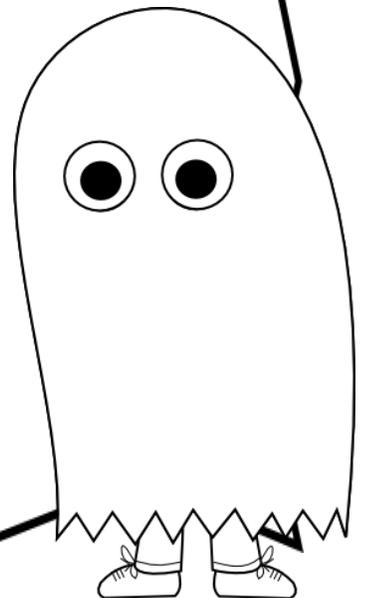

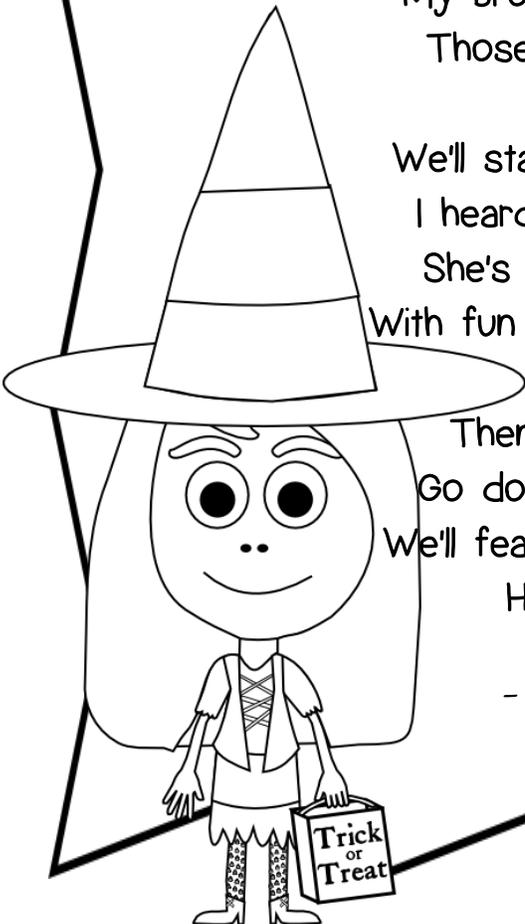

This year I'm wearing a disguise:
a sheet of white with holes for eyes.
That's right! I'm dressing as a ghost,
The costume that I love the most.

My sister has a princess gown.
She even wore it into town.
My brother wears a mask and cape!
Those villains will have no escape..

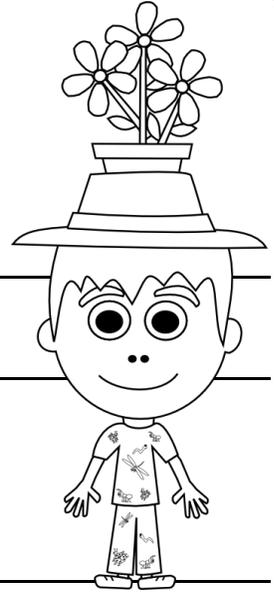

We'll start the night at Emma's house.
I heard she's dressing as a mouse.
She's going to host a party there,
With fun and games, and food to share.

Then it's time to hit the street!
Go door-to-door for trick-or-treat.
We'll feast on candy when we're done.
Halloween is tons of fun!

- Brian Anthony Crawford

On Halloween

What is the poem On Halloween about?

---

---

What rhyming scheme does this poem use?

---

---

Does the narrator like or dislike Halloween? How can you tell?

---

---

Are you dressing up for Halloween this year? If so, what will your costume be?

---

---

What do you like most about Halloween?

---

---

---

---